HISTORY OF CREDENHILL SOCIAL CLUB

The old railway station was purchased by Credenhill Parish Council in 1971 from British Rail for the sum of £3000, (the going rate at the time), to build a Community Centre for the residents of Credenhill, to this end a Development committee was formed of various parishioners with interest in building a Hall and Social Club comprising of one building. The original idea coming from Mr. Bill Grimmer of Mill Close who became the initial Chairman of the Social Club

The hall and Social Club being financed completely separately, the Hall from fund raising and grants and the Social Club by a loan from Ansells Brewery. The Club opened on 11th November 1974 (when the Club was given a lease for a nominal annual sum payable to Credenhill Parish Council.

The Hall opened early 1975. At this time a separate Committee was formed to run the Social Club and a separate Committee to run the Hall

For several years the building was used as one with all sorts of functions run by the Club and hall such as skittles (in the hall) dances, cabaret nights etc, but eventually the hall committee decided to register the Hall as a Charity, which resulted in the local authority insisting on a wall being built to separate the two to comply with licensing laws.

The Social Club was registered with the Friendly Society (reg No. 2660 W) at the the time of opening.

Pictured left is Mr. Grimmer (Chairman) as he welcomes the Steward and Stewardess (Mr. and Mrs. Hughes) to the Credenhill Community Centre, together with other members of the Committee

St Mary's Church, Credenhill – Churchwardens' report.

First may I apologise that my report was not included last month. I went on holiday and didn't realise it had not been received.

The Annual Ride and Stride was very successful this year. We had 11 people walking or cycling around the churches of Herefordshire, 22 visitors to our church and 8 stewards... Ever since this event was started Heather Park organised the Credenhill members and provided refreshments for people who visited our church from all over the diocese so this year we have dedicated the event to her. We are not sure yet how much has been raised but it is expected to be around £800, a half of which goes to the Historic Churches Trust to whom we can apply for grants for the upkeep of our church. We would like to thank everyone who took part.

Our all-age service for October, The Community Harvest Festival, was held in the Headway Centre .
Despite numbers being down there was a large amount of items given for the Community Larder. Thank you.

At our recent PCC meeting we discussed whether we should replace the pews with chairs. We have recently reorganised the lay out of the seating, without removing pews, to provide a more flexible space. There is room for additional chairs or staging if needed, so it was decided that this will be put on hold for the foreseeable future but may be discussed again should there be a need for change. Our next theme for discussion is "What do the people of Credenhill want from the church and how do we meet these needs?" If you have any thoughts on this matter please let us know.

As this is a very busy time of year I thought you might like a list of events and dates so that you can decide and plan what you would like to be involved in.

- Our all-age community service for November is the Act of Remembrance. This will be held on Sunday 9th November at the war memorial near the school gates on Station Road. The service will start at 10:50 am. It will include the laying of wreaths and 2 minutes silence. There will be a special tribute to those who fought in World War 1 this year as it is the centenary year. Following the silence we will move into the school hall for the remainder of the service. There will be an opportunity for members of the community to lay a wreath, a poppy or a rose in memory of a loved one or just to say thank you to those who have fought/died in conflict to ensure our freedom or for those who are currently serving for our country.

- November 15th is an evening for men only. The Best of British. This is an opportunity to sample some real ale in the company of your peers. There will be a buffet supper of Herefordshire beef, Scottish Salmon, Welsh lamb and Irish potato cakes with bacon, followed by a range of British cheeses. The cost for the evening including your first drink is £10. Transport can be arranged so that you don't have to drive.

- During November and December we are selling calendars for church funds. The theme is Beautiful Britain and the photographs have all been taken by members of our community. These are available from members of the congregation or from Rev Rana – 8, Hillside View, Jean Hawkings-Bowles, 3, The Mews, Barbara Brown, 10, Meadow Drive.

- We have decided not to hold a Christmas Fayre this year but instead we are holding a Grand Hamper Draw. There will be several hampers including a Christmas Day Hamper, a fruit basket, a drinks bucket, a cheese, pate and cracker board and a confectionary hamper with sweets and biscuits. The tickets £1 will be on sale throughout December and the draw will take place at the Angel Festival Opening Concert on Friday 12th December. All hampers will be delivered in time for Christmas. The promoters for this draw are Fiona and Mike Honeysett. Members of the congregation will have tickets for sale and the venues mentioned above. If you would like to contribute to these hampers please give your donations to a member of the church or drop them off at one of the above addresses.

- FESTIVAL of ANGELS – we are inviting groups and individuals to make angels, standing or hanging, to display in the church over Christmas. These need to be brought up to church by Wednesday 10th December so that we can arrange them in time for the festival opening concert on Friday 12th December. To date the concert will include an angelic choir from Credenhill School, Tintin Nabulis (Bell ringers from Burghill). If you would like to take part please let me know there is a wealth of talent in Credenhill and we would welcome more participants. More details next month.

Dear Friends

'Greater love has no one than this: to lay down one's life for one's friends.' John 15:13

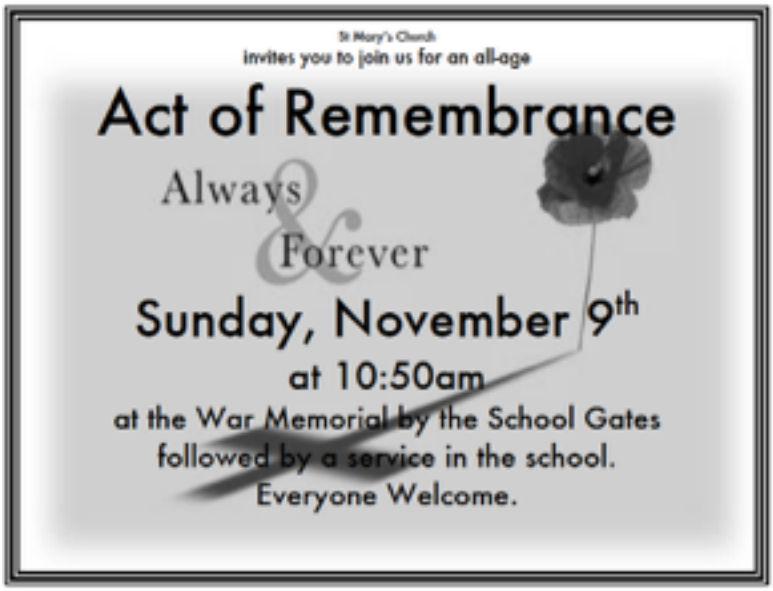
This year, 2014, marks the beginning of the First World War and you may remember in August we participated in 'Lights Out' - a national commemoration of the start of the dark days for Europe when war broke out and Great Britain declared war on Germany. I find it almost impossible to imagine what it must have been like living in a country at war. As we travel through the balmy, mellows days of autumn, I am truly grateful that I live in our time. Television and publishers have been telling stories of what it was like in the trenches, hospitals, munitions factories and homes and we can see a little of how it affected our predecessors. We all have a story to tell of how someone was affected by WW1 within our own families. My paternal grandfather, Conway Davies, was injured in the trenches and suffered severe 'shell-shock'. He was sent to work in Kew Gardens where he recuperated and found peace and he went on to become an Anglican clergyman and parish priest. I also had a Great-Uncle - Conway's brother, Llewellyn, who signed up as a private in the Welsh Guards. He has a fascinating story too long for here, but his father was a Colonel in the Royal Marines, and had the recruiting officer realised, Llewellyn would have been sent for officer training. Sadly he died in the trenches at Soissons in France. My father had been baptised four days before Llewellyn died and Grandpa Conway, not knowing yet of his brother's death, stood in as surrogate godfather for Llewellyn. My father loved that he had a godfather who was already in heaven! And on my maternal grandparent's side, my great-grandfather was a private in the Royal Lancashire Regiment - I have his medals. Conway's were stolen by removal men when he moved to his retirement home in Hastings.

Whatever stories we have, we will pass down to each generation because we are all brought up to remember those who gave their lives for our freedom. Ultimately the One who gave up his life for all the world is also remembered every time we share Holy Communion. The freedom Christ won for us is different; this is freedom from the guilt of sin and deliverance from eternal death. Those who recognise and remember what Jesus did will have eternal life. This brings us hope and peace, especially to those who have lost loved ones as a result of war.

I hope and pray that you will find hope and peace in knowing what Jesus has done for you too.

With every Blessing,

Rana



THANK YOU

Caroline Martin and Family want to thank everyone for the kind messages of sympathy, donations to St Micheals Hospice and the attendance at the funeral of Gerald on 8th October. They were very much appreciated at this sad time.

A male has entered the one stop shop in Credenhill, picked up a case of Stella Artois lager and has walked straight out of the store without making any attempt to pay. A member of staff followed the male out of the store and challenged him as he was walking away. The male was extremely drunk and refused to return to the store. He walked off up the road taking the case of lager with him. Police officers attended the area and located the male in an alleyway carrying the now open case of lager and drinking from one of the cans. The male was arrested and the stolen lager was recovered,

Miniature motorbikes, known as mini motos, are becoming increasingly popular. Powered by an electric motor or engine,they can reach speeds of up to 60mph, making them exciting and appealing to teenagers.
When ridden safely and legally, mini motos can be an enjoyable and appropriate gift. However, they are often used in an anti-social, illegal and dangerous way, which can result in police prosecution not only of the rider, but also their parents who are held accountable for the actions of their children.
Please think twice before buying, or allowing your child to ride, a mini moto

Mini motos and the law

The government regards mini motos as 'motor vehicles' so they must be constructed to a specific standard in order to be ridden on a public highway. Most mini motos on sale in the UK do not meet this standard.
Visit the Department for Transport's website at www.dft.gov.uk for more information.

It is always illegal to ride a mini moto on the road, parks, play areas and on pavements

Mini-moto's should only be ridden on privately owned land with the permission of the land owner or at a specialist site

Penalties for riding a minimoto illegally –

Riding a mini moto illegally could result in:
- The bike being seized with a £150 recovery fee, plus £10 per day storage
- The bike being crushed
- Riders appearing in court and being fined
- Parents of young offenders appearing in court and being fined
- Riders receiving points on their licence, even if they are too young to hold a licence.

Bikes could also be seized and crushed if they are being used in such a way that causes alarm, distress or annoyance to members of the public.

Please call Police on 101 at the time of witnessing a bike being ridden. Any information can be passed anonymously by calling CRIMESTOPPERS 0800 555 111

WEOBLEY & DISTRICT LOCAL HISTORY SOCIETY

The November meeting on the 26th will be at Hopelands, Weobley's Village Hall, starting at 7.30pm. Our guest David Whitehead will talk to us about "Herefordshire in the Early Middle Ages". That is 1066-1200 for people like me who are keen to learn about our county's history and a little shaky on dates.

His talk will be on the political history describing the activities of the marcher barons; the King's interest in Herefordshire; relations with the Welsh; Herefordshire during the Anarchy and the establishment on royal control under Henry II. It will be illustrated with castles, churches, notable places etc.

David is an accomplished speaker, writer and historian with an immense knowledge of Herefordshire. His is the Hon. Secretary of the Woolhope Club; Vice-Chairman of the Trust for the Victoria County History of Herefordshire; retired Head of History at the Sixth Form College in Hereford. Don't miss this compelling talk.

HARVEST FESTIVAL & HARVEST WORKSHOPS – Children had an amazing time learning about thanksgiving, sharing and compassion in fun ways including drama, song and role-play at St Mary's Church recently. Revd. Rana and her team helped our children learn about God's beautiful world and how we can help to make sure we take care of it, and of one another. At the end of the week, parents were invited to celebrate in our Festival at the Church. Children are now busily working in classes to explore these Christian values in more detail.

NEWS FROM ST. MARY'S PRIMARY SCHOOL

CHARITY EVENT - We ended the term by holding a fund raiser for Help for Heroes and Red White & Blue Day. The whole school was involved and our parents came and joined in the fun! Here are just some of the activities the children enjoyed:

HELP for HEROES
Support for our Wounded

*Army Obstacle Course
* Bouncy Castle
*Tug Of War
*Welly Wanging!
And much, more more!

RED WHITE & BLUE DAY

Our friends at the camp helped us run some great fun events and they made sure we all warmed up for an active afternoon in true military fashion!!

Our Sunshine Club children tasked the rest of our children with designing a camouflage hat which some children wore during their activities.

Also to support Red White & Blue Day the children wore sportswear in these colours.

To end the day Sunshine Club held a cake sale to raise more funds.

I would like to thank our friends at the camp, our Sunshine Club and our staff, children and parents for organising a great day for 2 fantastic Charities. Thank you.

Until next time – Mr M!

We Shall Keep the Faith

Oh! you who sleep in Flanders Fields,
Sleep sweet - to rise anew!
We caught the torch you threw
And holding high, we keep the Faith
With All who died.

We cherish, too, the poppy red
That grows on fields where valor led;
It seems to signal to the skies
That blood of heroes never dies,
But lends a lustre to the red
Of the flower that blooms above the dead
In Flanders Fields.

And now the Torch and Poppy Red
We wear in honor of our dead.
Fear not that ye have died for naught;
We'll teach the lesson that ye wrought
In Flanders Fields.

Bare Bones Drama Group

Bare Bones Theatre play
The Prisoner of Second Avenue'
by Neil Simon at Burghill Simpson Hall on Friday 28th November

Neil Simon is one of America's greatest and most prolific comedy writers. His work for television, film and the stage has brought him countless awards and honours. Probably best known for 'The Odd Couple' and 'The Sunshine Boys', his work for the stage has spanned more than forty years. 'The Prisoner of Second Avenue' was written in 1971. Its theme, the pressures of high rise living in an age of rising crime rates, unemployment and urban pollution. may seem like an unlikely subject for comedy. But then Neil Simon is no ordinary playwright. He has the The English National Theatre reprised the piece in 2010 and Bare Bones offer it just four years later! Come and see it.

Curtain up is at 7.30 pm and tickets at just £5 are available from Bare Bones Box Office (01981-540820) or at the door

Friday 7th November: The Invisible Woman (12a)
Ralph Fiennes directs and stars in this romantic drama adapted from Clare Tomalin's book about the relationship between celebrated 19th-century novelist Charles Dickens and his mistress. School teacher Nelly Ternan, now a wife and mother, looks back on her life as a young woman when, while working as an actress, she met the 45-year-old Dickens. Having become disenchanted with his wife Catherine, Dickens finds himself enamoured by the equally smitten Nelly and the two become romantically involved. However, they must keep their relationship a secret, meaning Nelly must live an almost invisible existence.

What did you do on the rainy, misty afternoon of October 11th?

We held a very enjoyable Messy Harvest with printing, collage, corn dolly making, salt dough activities stories and songs and other activities which were followed by tea.

Unfortunately only 4 children from 3 families joined the 7 adults who had prepared the afternoon's activities.

We didn't know about it; We didn't know what it was about; We don't like to come on our own;
We don't know anyone; We don't go to church…. are some the comments I heard.

What is Messy Church?

- It is an activity based afternoon of fun for children of all ages and their families.
- When you arrive the room is set up with a range of activities based on a theme for everyone to have a go at.
- There is then a session on the carpet with songs and a bible story either read acted or done with puppets.
- The afternoon then finishes with a shared meal.
- It is an opportunity to meet new people.

We are holding these afternoons once a month, usually on the 2nd Saturday of the month.

- November 8th – Messy Remembrance.
- December 13th – Messy Christmas.
- January 10th – Messy Baptism. We will invite everyone who has been baptized in our church to join us.
- February 14th – Messy Valentine's Day
- March 14th – Messy Mothering.

Everyone is welcome.

Aileen & Jamie would like to say thank you to everybody who responded to our posters and leaflets by looking for Charlie, our missing cat. After being gone for exactly a week he calmly strolled back through the door looking none the worse for ordeal.

We should all make time to talk…

TIME TO TALK ABOUT ORGAN DONATION

….about the things that really matter to us, even when the subject is difficult. And one of the things that it is certainly difficult to talk about is organ donation.

Transplants save lives. Three people die every day waiting for an organ transplant in the UK. Thousands of others have very poor quality of life. When you choose to be a donor, you give hope to thousands of people and their families.

But perhaps even more important than registering to be an organ donor is talking to your family about your views on organ donation.

Bereaved families in England and Wales (even in the new Welsh system) have a crucial role in the transplant system; donation never takes place without them being involved. Research shows that families who are aware that their deceased loved one wanted to be a donor, are much more likely to allow donation to take place. Knowing what a loved one wanted, eases the burden of decision at a very distressing time. Talking to your family now means that your decision can be respected if the situation ever arises. Don't leave them guessing: have a think, let them know.

If we can get more people talking about donation, and having their decisions known and respected by their loved ones, we can increase the chances of a transplant being possible for those 7,000 people still on the organ waiting list. One donor can transform the lives of 9 people.

For more information about this campaign to get people talking, and about organ donation (including the debunking of some common myths) you can visit www.thewi.org.uk. Choose the 'Campaigns' tab and scroll down to 'Time to Talk'. Or look at the information pinned on the WI noticeboard in the Simpson Hall.

Because of you...
We have built a Hospice like no other.

Thanks to your support, St Michael's Hospice will soon have raised the the eight million pounds needed to fund over 200,000 hours of labour, truckloads of building supplies and the procurement of state-of-the-art technology to build a new Hospice for the local community.

Built from environmental materials on a raft foundation and wrapped in 300mm of high-performing insulation, the building has been engineered to maintain a uniform temperature to within a fraction of a degree, ensuring it provides the best possible therapeutic environment.

Keith Willis, Site Manager for Speller Metcalfe said, 'It's been a real people's project, and I'm proud to have played a part in building something that truly does belong to everyone in the community'.

Staff and patients will move into the new In-Patient Unit at the end of this year. Work will then commence on the second stage of the project, the complete refurbishment of the existing building. Once complete, the new facilities will double the amount of outpatient care St Michael's Hospice can provide for the local community.

GARDENING by Doug Wellin

November is sometimes a more congenial month than its traditional association with fogs and frosts would suggest. It's the best time for planting shrubs and trees. Why? If you plant them in the Spring, they are trying to make leaf and get growing, but their roots haven't had chance to settle in and develop enough to sustain all the new energy the plant naturally thinks it's time to make. The result is that even if the shrub or tree doesn't fail, it doesn't thrive and is prone to die-back. Moreover if we get a dry spell in the Spring, there isn't enough going into the roots to produce adequate food. Whereas shrubs and trees planted in November are going into soil which a couple of inches down is still warm from the summer, warm and welcoming; there are no worries about them drying out, and, if they are not evergreens, they will be losing their leaves or already have lost them, so there is no stress because nothing is making much by way of demands on the roots. They can settle in happily so that by the time Spring comes with its new growth, they can get away from the start like Lewis Hamilton in a Formula 1 race.

I've warned about pot-bound plants before. On the whole the best advice is not to buy them. However, if there is a particular shrub you want at a garden centre, and it's the only one they have, get them to knock it down to half price. Take it home and take it out of its pot, lay it down on the lawn or a spare space in the border, and then go and get the sharpest spade you've got or sharpen the blade if it's the only one. Then place the spade blade on the lower two-thirds or three-quarters of the root downwards, so that the blade is in line with the trunk, put your boot on the shoulder of the spade and drive it downwards so that you cut most of the root in half longways. Then turn the shrub 45 degrees so that your first cut is horizontal to the ground, and do the same again so that you will have quartered much of the lower root system. Lightly tease out some of the roots, and then you can plant with the four quarters spread out as much as is comfortable, and the shrub will do well. I've used this trick over years, and it works, but otherwise a pot-bound plant just stuck in the ground will never be any good.

When planting, always prepare the space that is going to be home for the shrub or tree for a long time. Dig a hole considerably bigger than the root ball, and put in the bottom a mixture of good topsoil and some well-decayed leaf-mould or garden compost, then after putting in the shrub or tree to its former soil level, fill up with more good soil with, if possible, some humus in it, and firm it well. It's very tempting to shove fertilizer in as well, but don't. It's OK to mix in a small amount of bonemeal, but only a small amount.

Research has shown that adding general fertilizer or a lot of bonemeal actually inhibits growth, and too big a dose will burn new roots, so it's better to fork it in around the plant in February. And what goes for planting goes also for shifting. Now is the time for shift ing shrubs that are in the wrong place – and I'm always deciding that some of mine are go ing to have to be moved.

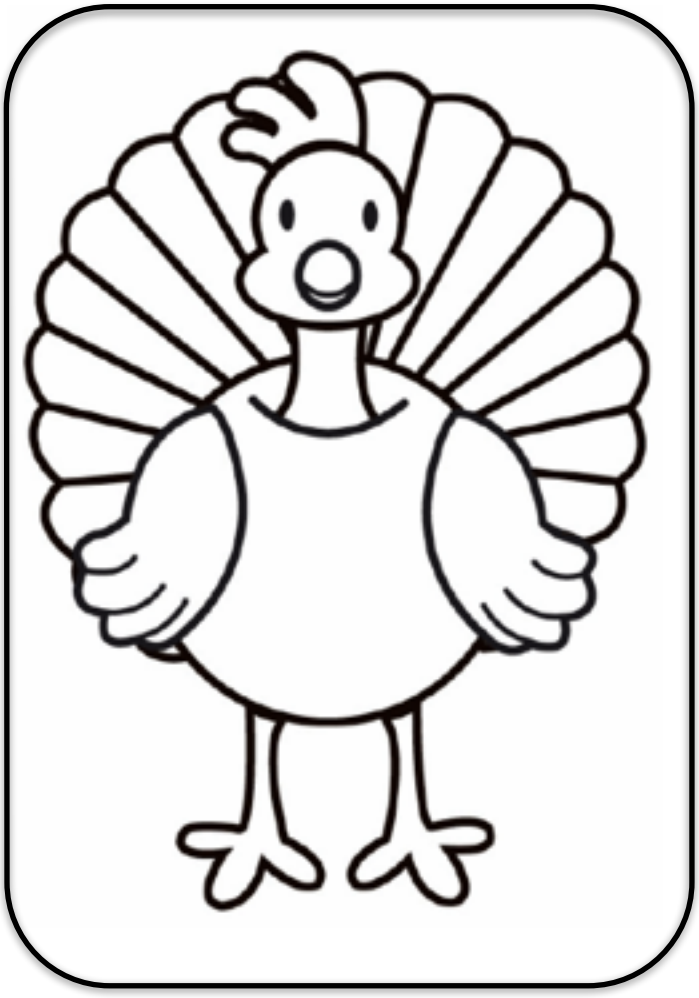
Sausage, pumpkin and sage casserole

Ingredients
50g/1¾oz butter
6 good-quality sausages, pricked several times with a fork
1 onion, peeled, thinly sliced
3 banana shallots, peeled, finely chopped
2 garlic cloves, peeled, finely chopped
1 tbsp chopped fresh sage
1 small pumpkin, peeled, seeds removed, cut into equal-sized pieces
1 tbsp white wine vinegar
1 tsp caster sugar
200g/7oz canned chopped tomatoes
400g/14oz canned cannellini beans, drained, rinsed
500ml/18fl oz chicken stock
salt and freshly ground black pepper
2 tbsp chopped fresh flatleaf parsley, to serve

Preparation method
Preheat the oven to 180C/350F/Gas 4.
Heat half the butter in a large casserole over a medium heat and fry the sausages for 4-5 minutes, or until golden-brown all over.
Add the remaining butter, onion and shallots and fry for three minutes, or until softened. Add the garlic and sage leaves and cook for a further three minutes, stirring well.
Add the pumpkin and stir the mixture until well combined. Increase the heat to high and add the white wine vinegar. Continue to cook until most of the liquid has evaporated.
Add the sugar, tomatoes, cannellini beans and stock and season, to taste, with salt and freshly ground black pepper.
Bring the mixture to the boil, then transfer the casserole to the oven for one hour, or until the sausages are cooked through and the pumpkin is tender.
To serve, ladle the casserole into two large bowl and sprinkle with the flatleaf parsley.



Bonfire Night

Bonfire Night is a uniquely British event when we "celebrate" the discovery of the Gunpowder Plot against the King and Parliament in the early 17th Century. In fact, nobody cares about the origins of the celebration anymore, but we all enjoy a good bonfire, firework display, and sausages on the 5th November each year

Remember, remember the fifth of November,
Gunpowder, treason and plot,
We see no reason,
Why gunpowder treason,
Should ever be forgot!

Please remember to keep your pets safely indoors on bonfire night. Stay safe and always go to an organised bonfire display where fireworks can be

A Scotsman was heading out to the pub and turned to his wee wife before leaving...
"Jackie - put your hat and coat on lassie".
"Awe John that's nice - are you taking me to the pub with you?".
"No just switching the central heating off while I'm oot"
